We want to create a space at Piazzale Roma, where people can feel calm and experience a good first impression of Venice and the Biennale. Residential neighbourhoods, schools and hotels surrounding Piazzale Roma and the local people are closely connected to the place.

Therefore, our structure is also accommodating to local people as a stay and meeting place with a green environment. Process and concept We analysed the area at Piazzale Roma and observed new connecting ways between the entrances and exits. Out of these ways we found three of the connections interesting. The connections create a logical way forward into and out of Venice. Our structure's form represents the connecting ways and makes a harmony at the place because of the organic form. The structure makes it easy for tourists to organize their way, and for the local people and visitors it creates an outdoor urban space.
